Miss Oliver, our exceptional SENCo to move on

As many of you will have read in our earlier letter sent out, sadly, Miss Oliver, our school's exceptional SENCo will move on from Camelot School at the end of the term.

Please can we encourage all the children and parents/carers who have benefited from her support over the years with us to acknowledge her work with your words of thanks and praise.

Thank you from Kadweya Primary School, Northern Malawi. Camelot School's Partner School

On beneficiary of the school's recent fundraising efforts has been our partner school in Malawi.

Kadweya Primary School—as visited by Mr Robinson, Miss Eastwood and Miss Rich (previous Year 6 teacher), is in a very poor area of Northern Malawi where the children's classrooms are in need of urgent repair. Our monies sent to them have been allocated for seeking to provide more children with desks and chairs. Currently, all the children sit on the floor for their lessons.

We are keen to further support Kadweya School and all the schools in this area of Northern Malawi and hope you will help us to raise more money for the school over months and years ahead.

This year's Christmas Jumper Day Collection will be passed on to the children at Kadweya School to support their uniform expectations which so many parents cannot afford to pay so instead they don't send their children to school.

Please willingly donate £2 on Thursday 19th to give your chance for your child to wear their jumper and to support others less fortunate than them,

The text of thanks from our link teacher, Matais Misolo.

"Hi James (Mr Robinson), great news to let you know is that school governing committee has implemented the money you sent as it was planned for this the community and the school are pleased and they say thank you once again..... Say hi to Madeline (Miss Eastwood), Natalie (Miss Rich) and the all staff members of Camelot school not forgetting your lovely family members. I love you all have great day. Good luck, Matias."

Swimming at St Thomas the Apostle School

We are pleased to confirm that Swimming will restart for Key Stage Two classes from January. After problems with timetabling, we hope to give every child in Key Stage Two the chance to learn to swim during the school day hours .

Please remember, swimming is a compulsory part of the school curriculum and all children must participate in swimming lessons.

The first year group will be Year 4 classes.
