Ofsted 2018— Camelot School

Every school has a message to communicate in its ethos, its culture..... and its hashtags that tells its community about the school. In our case, we want to tell our community that we may have school places available in different year groups if any one is looking for a school place in an exceptional and proven Peckham primary.

If you know any family looking for a place for their child in our Reception classes from September 2018 then the message is the school is expanding its intake and they are asked to get in touch with us about joining our exceptional school for every day!

Key event for next week and next term:

Tomorrow: Sport Relief (message to all below)

This week the children have had the opportunity to participate in a variety of sporting activities in order to raise awareness of the needs of others across the UK and the World. From daily activities, to Dance-a-thons, children have been encouraged to 'get active'. Children who challenged themselves to participate in the most activities will receive a special reward.

Tomorrow, if they bring a 50p donation they can also bring sporting clothes to change into at school They are NOT to come in these clothes- only children who pay 50p are allowed to change. There will be an obstacle course (timetable to follow) for those children to complete at a designated year group time.

- Tomorrow—9.00 a.m. Meeting regarding school day plans
- End of Term: Thursday 29th March at 3.30 p.m.
& First Day of Next Term: Monday 16th April 8.45 a.m.

The exceptional Mrs Lossa Grant!

We know the whole school community will want to come together to wish Mrs Lossa Grant the best for the birth of her next child. She leaves tomorrow to start her maternity leave and we are all excited to hear about the newest member of the Camelot community when they arrive.

Exceptional Everyday March in pictures

Camelot was covered in snow... like every other school in Peckham.

Camelot was open every day for our children... unlike every other school in Peckham!

100% attendance = #exceptionaleveryday

This is to check they're attending the monthly School Council Reward Times. The School Council requested a monthly reward for all the children who were making the right choices day in day out in the classroom.
