New School Tracksuits Introduced

The recent lockdown highlighted the importance of being able to undertake a PE lesson every day as well as minimising the need to bring in two sets of clothes each day. We consulted with our uniform supplier and are pleased to introduce a new school tracksuit and new PE white shirt in a longer lasting, more durable polycotton fabric. It is hoped that all children will buy the tracksuit in time for September 2021 onwards.

Award Jimi the George Cross

BY TOBY PORTER

toby@slpmedia.co.uk

More than 110,000 people have signed a petition to have a 20-year old hero remembered with a plaque on London Bridge.

A rising total of £150,000 has been raised in tribute to Fola Jimi – known as Jimi – Adewole, from Bermondsey, who died in the early hours of Saturday trying to rescue a woman from the River Thames.

His best friend, Brendan, and parents have backed another campaign to have him awarded the George Cross, the highest civilian honour for bravery – which can be awarded posthumously.

But by yesterday morning, 110,000 had backed the campaign to have his bravery permanently marked on London Bridge where he jumped in, without a thought for his own safety.

The plaque petition, started by Katie Smith, said: "He saved the life of a stranger, something that most would hesitate to do."

"A memorial plaque should be placed on London Bridge to honour his bravery and act of heroism."

Brendan and he were on their way home from a busy joint shift in a restaurant when they heard the woman's shouts.

Brendan said: "He already meant a lot to everyone, especially around South London. Everyone knows him as a hero."

"He was adamant he would try to save her."

That shows his nature.

"We were talking about his mum and dad and how we could help them, and his missus."

"We were joking around. He said 'You know I love you, don't you?' I said the same."

"This man came up and showed us a video of the woman. From where I am in South London, we make sure people are OK."

"We called 999 and Jimi was instructing them where she was."

"We heard her screaming 'I'm dying. I'm dying'."

"This man came up and said 'Can you swim?' I knew he could – we went to the leisure centres and he was always the first in."

Tributes pour in for Thames hero Jimi

BY TOBY PORTER

toby@slpmedia.co.uk

A fundraiser for Jimi Adewole was started by the family of his best friend – a teenager murdered in November 2018 trying to protect another pupil.

Malcolm Mide Madariola, 17, was stabbed to death outside Clapham South Tube station, yards from his school, St Francis Xavier College.

His dad, Oluhide, set up the Malcolm World Foundation for social projects – and paid tribute to his son's death on the go-fund-me page which by yesterday had received more than 100 donations.

Jimmy had been named by Malcolm's example and his name tattooed on his left arm.

The fundraiser said: "This is to support the funeral, and the rest for post-funeral as he was a hardworking college graduate who at 20 was the family's breadwinner."

"He is survived by his aged parents and siblings. Your little support will go a little way. A long way. Pure-hearted soul. Great helper. Loving boy. RIP JimiTheHero."

More than 8,600 people have so far donated to the fund, with one, Rahul Moodgal, contributing £1,234. The Boparan Restaurant Group has also donated £6,000.

Football Club, was a former pupil of Camelot Primary School in Bermondsey, Harris Academy Peckham and Harris Boys' Academy, East Dulwich.

Camelot headteacher James Robinson said: "I am also one of his old football coaches (at Athenley) and my club and this school are in touch with his family to pass on our condolences."

"We have used assembly time to share why Jimi's actions are an example of selfishness and sacrifice and we are planning a whole school round of applause for him this Friday at 11am in the playground."

Jimi had completed a BTEC in health and social care and in business studies at Harris Academy Peckham.

Its principal, Rebecca Hickey, said: "He was quite a character. He had a clear sense of values and had been beautifully brought up."

"His manners were impeccable."

"Anyone who knew him would not have been surprised at the actions he took. He put others in front of himself at all times."

"He was known for his slightly cheeky, optimistic outlook. He was incredibly popular among his peers and obviously he leaves them devastated in his wake."

"He will always be a hero in our community – a role model and an inspiration. The fact he is not there anymore makes you want to weep."

East Dulwich headteacher Peter Groves said: "We all feel devastated by his loss – to die at such a young age. His friends remember him as a gentleman who stood up for what was right – he had a real moral compass."

The school held an assembly in his memory this week and paid tribute with a round of applause.

Mr Groves said: "We see him as a role model. He had a real impact here in a short time."

FROM FRONT

"He didn't think twice. He said 'I have to save her, Berns. Take my phone. You can't swim.'"

"Then I couldn't see him anywhere. All I could hear was him shouting my name. But it wasn't normal – it was pain."

"I am proud just to have crossed his path and been beside him every step of the way."

His dad, Michael, said: "I want the Government to honour him and appreciate him so that he doesn't vanish forever. He was a good soul – the breadwinner in our family who looked after both his parents. We are very grateful for the contributions which have been made."

His mother Olasunkanmi said: "He had a good heart. He was a caring boy."
